

AGITATION NOT CAUSED BY FAILURE TO PASS TARIFF

Trouble In Philippines Not Caused By Defeat of Measure In Congress.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., May 26.—The present disturbances and insurrectionary movements on the part of the Filipino people, especially among those in the Island of Luzon, is attributed by Americans and natives in Manila to the failure of the Senate to pass the pending Philippine tariff bill, according to advices received from the Islands recently. They point to the fact that almost perfect tranquility has prevailed in Luzon during the last five years up to the past two or three months when numerous outbreaks have occurred. They state that the situation in those provinces is now the most critical the government has to face for several years. Further details are lacking on this score. It is not thought by officials here, however, that the failure of the American Congress to pass the Philippine bill has had any effect on the Filipinos in the manner described from Manila. On the contrary they think the administration of civil government over there is not much to the liking of the Islanders, the latter preferring to have much more say in their governmental affairs than they now have. No official advices have been received here within a late period to justify the assertion that the Filipinos are becoming warlike over the failure of Congress to pass the Philippine bill.

GUATEMALA THREATENED BY INTERNAL REVOLUTIONS

American Industries May Be Injured By The Pending Trouble As Reported.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., May 28.—Guatemala is threatened with a revolution which may endanger the American interests in the republic, according to dispatches received at the state department today. The scene of the trouble is in the northern part of the republic, near the Mexican frontier, but the cause is international.

BIDS ON IRRIGATION MACHINERY OPENED

Move Toward Commencement Of Work on the Garden City Project in Eastern Kansas.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., May 28.—Bids are to be opened today for the contract for the furnishing of the machinery for the Garden City irrigation project, in Western Kansas. This irrigation project is attracting considerable attention on account of novel features involved in its construction. The water must be recovered from the underflow waters of the Arkansas valley, which lie in gravel deposits existing below the bed of the river. It is therefore necessary to sink several hundred wells from which the water will be pumped and discharged into a collecting conduit.

WOULD SETTLE THE BIG COAL STRIKE

Indiana, Illinois And Iowa Matters Are To Be Discussed In The Meeting.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Ill., May 28.—Members of the executive committee of coal operators in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio met here in secret session today to consider the modes of bringing the strikes in the mines to an end. The tri-state agreement existing between operators of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois is practically dissolved. The agreement provided that no settlement with the miners would be made in one state without the consent of the operators in the other states.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 28.—Buffeted by a fierce storm that swept Lake Erie early today the schooner Mabel Wilson, one laden from Escanaba, sprang a leak and sank outside the breakwater. One sailor was drowned and seven other members of the crew were rescued by the life-saving crew.

BUCKEYE OPTICIANS

Columbus, O., May 28.—About one hundred opticians from all over the state are gathered in Columbus for the fourth annual meeting of the Ohio Optical association, which opened today at the Southern hotel. The initial business session was held this afternoon with President F. W. Wallis of this city presiding. Following the annual banquet this evening the association will listen to a lecture by Prof. George A. Rogers of Chicago. The convention will close tomorrow.

COMMEMORATION AT TUSKALOOSA

Tuskaloosa, Ala., May 28.—Alumni and friends of the University of Alabama were present in force today at the exercises held in connection with the seventy-fifth anniversary celebration and commencement of the university. The visitors were greeted by Governor Jelks, speaking for the state, by President John W. Abernethy of the university, and by W. Hill Ferguson of Birmingham, representing the alumni association. The president's reception takes place tonight and promises to be largely attended.

CLUB WOMEN GIVEN WELCOME AT ST. PAUL

Eighth Biennial Convention Opens Wednesday and All States Will Be Represented.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
St. Paul, Minn., May 28.—St. Paul has the proud honor of entertaining the representatives of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, who meet here in their eighth biennial convention beginning Wednesday and continuing one week. The national membership aggregates several hundred thousand, and it is to the representatives of these progressive women that the city is called upon to extend a hearty welcome. The daily sessions will be held in the Armory. Through the energies of the decoration committee, supplemented by professional artists in this line, the interior of the armory has been converted into a festival hall by means of innumerable palms and the standard and tricolor of the nation. The headquarters of the convention were opened today at the Hotel Ryan, where the register is already filling with the names of the officers and other leaders of the federation. The large majority of the delegates and visitors, however, will be entertained in private homes of St. Paul and Minneapolis. From all indications the attendance will set a new record for the federation's biennial gatherings. Large delegations are reported on the way from New England, New York and Pennsylvania, from Texas and all the states of the South and from the Pacific coast. Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa and other states of the Middle West are sending large delegations. At the formal opening Wednesday evening the speakers are to include Governor Johnson, Mayor Smith, President Northrop of the University of Minnesota, and Mrs. J. L. Washburn, president of the Minnesota federation. Usually there is considerable uncertainty and excitement over the election of a president, but this year the re-election of Mrs. Sarah S. Platt Decker of Denver seems so certain that no other candidate is believed to have any chance at the office.

PHILADELPHIA HORSE SHOW

Philadelphia, Pa., May 28.—Society turned out in force today for the opening of the fifteenth annual exhibition of the Philadelphia Horse Show association. The show, as heretofore, is held on St. Martin's Green. The entries this year are of an exceptionally high class and the four days' show promises to be successful from the viewpoint of both society and the lovers of fine horseflesh.

RICHMOND'S MAY FESTIVAL

Richmond, Ind., May 28.—Richmond's Centennial May festival, which opens with a concert this afternoon and continues over tomorrow, has attracted music lovers from all over eastern Indiana. The program is one of unusual excellence. The participants include, in addition to the Theodore Thomas Orchestra of Chicago, a number of soloists of national prominence.

RUSSIA WAITS A NEW CRISIS

Czar Will Not Yield To Either Faction But Hopes For Compromise Still

FORCE MAY YET BE USED BY CROWN

Lower House of Parliament Is Firm In Its Demand For The New Ministry And The Czar's Power Is In The Balance.

St. Petersburg, May 28.—Russia still waits to see what the Czar is going to do. Pessimism over the outlook continues to grow. The government as usual is hesitating at every crisis what course to pursue. Just what will be the result is hard to say.

Official Notes
Several official notes have been issued denying that the Government intends to resort to force of any description, but at the same time their tone indicates that there is no intention of the Czar of yielding to the demands to supersede the present ministry with one chosen from the majority of the lower house.

Looks For Compromise
He still seems to cling to the idea that a compromise will be effected without any real danger to the present status of affairs or to the ministry.

INFECTED MILK TO MILWAUKEE PEOPLE

Discovery by City Health Department Led to Killing of Twenty-two Cattle.

Dr. E. D. Roberts, State Veterinarian, was in Caladonia, Racine county, Saturday and after inspecting a herd of twenty-three milk cows, slaughtered twenty-two. These animals, which were owned by Philip Rauen, had been supplying milk to residents of Milwaukee and the city health department discovered that it was infected and endangered the health of those who were receiving it. The sale was stopped and Dr. Roberts summoned. He found that all but one animal was diseased and that the cases were far advanced. This morning the Wisconsin Veterinarian went to Madison to inspect two small herds and from there goes to Burlington.

GREAT INJUSTICE TO ACKER FAMILY

By Statement of Self-Confessed Bogus Divorce Victim That He Had Married the Daughter of the Boss.

Anent the story of a bogus divorce procured in Chicago, which was related by Ritz Clements, a recent arrival in this country, and published in the columns of the Gazette some weeks ago, a communication has been received from J. B. Acker of Milton on whose farm Clements was employed for some time, asking that a correction be made of the ex-hired-man's statement that "he had married a daughter of the boss." The statement, which appears to have been entirely without foundation, has caused a great deal of embarrassment to Mr. Acker and his family, who knew little of the man, Clements, and were not even aware that he was married to anyone, much less to one of the members of the family. Clements was either romancing or his broken English was misunderstood by the local attorneys to whom he related the story. Clements' present whereabouts and the identity of the woman in the case, if there was one, cannot be ascertained.

NEW ORLEANS NEWSPAPER SPEAKS IN HIGH TERMS

In noticing the death of the late James M. Enright, who was laid to rest here Saturday, a New Orleans paper says: "James M. Enright, who celebrated his thirtieth birthday on Good Friday last, and has been a resident of New Orleans for four years, died in this city Tuesday evening after an illness of one day. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias and well liked by his associates. Mr. Enright was a splendid specimen of physical manhood and popular in the circles in which he moved."

PRESS COMMENT.

Connor Joins Them.

Milwaukee Journal: The man who does something cannot get very far without exciting the envy and then the enmity of some of his pretended friends. La Follette is now getting this kind of experience. There is a decided breaking away from him by men who gained some prominence through their lieutenantcy to him.

It has been plain as a pikestaff for some time that a lot of Half-Breeds have been quietly organized to go out after the junior senator's scalp. Some have doubted that this was what Gov. Davidson's candidacy meant, but their eyes must be opened now that W. D. Connor, chairman of the Republican state central committee, announces his name as the candidate for lieutenant governor.

We are not sure that this will alarm Mr. La Follette. It is evident that Mr. Connor could not get a gubernatorial nomination for himself, and that he recognizes the La Follette sentiment is so strong that the only possibility of defeating the man whom he has come to regard as his political enemy is to combine the forces of all the ambitious Half-Breed politicians. It is hardly likely that it will work if La Follette means business.

As for Mr. Connor, the La Follette crowd are not likely to mourn his departure. His presence among them has always raised doubts as to the sincerity of their proclamation to regulate the corporations. If Mr. Connor was, is or can be anything but a corporation man, we would like to have somebody figure it out.

The Wisconsin Almost Cordial. Evening Wisconsin: For governor, James O. Davidson; for lieutenant governor, W. D. Connor. With these names at the head of their state ticket, the Republicans of Wisconsin can make a Campaign next fall which will strengthen the party for the Presidential year. Chairman Connor, of the Republican state central committee, has earned a reputation as an energetic leader and a safe, wise man. Republicans in all parts of the state have urged him to permit the use of his name as a candidate for the governorship next fall. This announcement has been awaited with interest and will be read with approval even by those to whom it will prove a bitter disappointment. Chairman Connor recognizes the unwritten law by which Gov. Davidson is entitled to the place at the head of the ticket next fall. He will not let the eagerness of his friends or his own ambition betray him into discourtesy toward a worthy and distinguished Republican to whom the standard-bearer of the party in the approaching campaign.

MILES M. TULLAR
AT NINETY YEARS

EVANSVILLE PIONEER CELEBRATES BIRTH ANNIVERSARY.

WITH "AGED MEN'S CLUB"

His Son, John Tullar, and Wife Entertain Today—Ten Children, Are Living.

Evansville, Wis., May 28.—In this city today occurs the 90th birthday anniversary of one of our best known citizens, Miles M. Tullar. In honor of the event, a son, John Tullar and his wife, entertained the relatives and the remaining members of the "Aged Men's Club," namely: Levi Leonard, Homer Potter, Samuel Caldwell, William Taggart, Frank Baker, Joseph West. The meeting of these pioneers and fathers of our little city brings much pleasure to them, and tales of their early life prove most interesting to the younger guests.

Miles Morgan Tullar was born in Brutus, Cayuga County, New York, May 28, 1816. His parents were John Milton and Laura (Marsh) Tullar, and he was a member of a family of five children, two boys and three girls. In June 1819 the family moved to Sadsberry, Crawford County, Pennsylvania, and Miles continued to live there or near there until he was twenty-eight years of age, in the year of 1844.

On Jan. 13, 1842 he was united in marriage of Miss Lusbe Ann Gallup, a native of Yates County, New York. She was born in the town of Naples, Yates County, N. Y., on Jan. 21, 1821, and was one of a family of nine children.

On July 20, 1844 this happy couple landed on Wisconsin soil, where the city of Evansville now stands. On the following spring they went onto land in Green County, about five miles west of this city, on the farm known at present as the Asmus place. Here they resided for nine years, then moved farther east, just 2 1/2 miles to a little south east of here, and on this place the remainder of their farm life was spent. The place is now owned by a son, Earl Tullar. Mrs. Tullar departed this life on Sept. 23, 1902, having always been a woman of many good qualities, and beloved by all who knew her.

To Mr. and Mrs. Tullar were born thirteen children, ten of whom are now living: John M. whose farm adjoins the old homestead, he married Miss Rissa Taggart, daughter of Wm. Taggart; Laura, wife of I. A. Taggart; a jeweler and newspaper dealer of this city; Emma, now a Mrs. Layton residing at Eugene, Oregon; Frank M. of Beach, N. Dakota; Miles, of Lennox, Lincoln Co., S. Dakota; Earl C. and Carrie, (twins) Earl residing on the old homestead and Carrie is the wife of Mr. J. Grove, of Le Mars, Iowa; Walter D., proprietor of a first class restaurant and bakery in this city. His wife is a daughter of the late Le Roy Springer; Elmer T. of Barron Co., Wis.; Fred of this city, a section foreman for the North Western Railway. Besides the ten children Mr. Tullar has thirteen grand children and three great-grand children.

Right Paint
at the Start

Pure White Lead and Pure Linseed Oil should always be used for the first or priming coat. No other paint has the same affinity for the surface—marrying and becoming a part of the wood.

Yellow ochre, barytes, zinc or any other substance than Pure White Lead fails to unite with the wood and serves only to form a cushion, which will prevent even Pure White Lead from attaching itself when finally applied.

Satisfactory results can never be obtained so long as a surface is coated with a veneering (for that is all it is) of yellow ochre, barytes, zinc, etc.

Such a coating is bound to crumble, crack and peel, and must be burned or scraped off, down to the wood itself, before a good job can be done—at expensive process, and not without danger of fire.

A house owner can scarcely make a more costly mistake than to use a substitute for Pure White Lead in the priming coat. Avoid all risk by using and one sister, Mrs. Chas. Goddall, who resides at Lodi, Wis.

On Jan. 13, 1892 the Golden Wedding Anniversary, and on Jan. 13, 1903 the sixtieth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Tullar were celebrated, and a great affair was made of each event. Mr. Tullar greatly amused the guests on both occasions by dancing a clog dance, and all believe he could surprise the younger generations even today with his clogging, for he is still as spry as a kitten and prefers walking to riding to and from the old homestead, many times refusing an offered ride, which many of our younger men would gladly accept. To proper methods of exercise and temperance is attributed his great activity of today.

When asked to what political party he belonged, he replied that he was no politician, that he always voted for the man, instead of the party. He served many years on the school board, and all through his life he has been a quiet, industrious man, kind and generous in his family, and willing to assist a needy neighbor; or fellow-man. He still retains an excellent memory, and it is a pleasure to meet and converse with him in his daily trips to the business portion of our little city. May he live to enjoy many similar birthday anniversaries.

"DRY AND LICENSE TOWNS COMPARED"

Evansville Better Off Than Edgerton Or Brodhead Says John S. Baker of Anti-Saloon City.

Before the Anti-Saloon league in annual convention at Madison, John S. Baker of Evansville, who was telling the league that saloons do not build the town and that dry cities are more solid, held up the cities of Brodhead and Edgerton as examples.

In support of his argument he took his home city, which, he said, has never granted a license, and made some comparisons with Edgerton and Brodhead, her two nearest neighbors, of about the same size and age with the following result:

"Total worth of business men—Brodhead, $428,500; Evansville, $712,500; Edgerton, $568,750.

"Average worth of business men—Brodhead, $6,500; Evansville, $10,200; Edgerton, $8,500.

"Per cent. Evansville average business men's worth exceeds—Brodhead, 53; Edgerton, 50.

"Business men's worth per capita—Brodhead, 270; Evansville, 400; Edgerton, 250.

"Per cent. Evansville exceeds—Brodhead, 47; Edgerton, 36.

"From the state superintendent of schools' report I found:

"High school enrollment—Brodhead, 90; Evansville, 113; Edgerton, 62.

"Total high school graduates—Brodhead, 116; Evansville, 145; Edgerton, 98.

"We have also at Evansville a seminary which is about on the same footing with the state university as the high school. This seminary has had 143 graduates and it is my judgment that fully half of these people would have graduated from the high school had not the seminary been there. This would have increased the number of our high school graduates to 216 and our graduates would then exceed Brodhead by 37 per cent and Edgerton 120 per cent. From the county board of supervisors' report I found that our assessed value of improvement on land and lots per capita in Evansville exceeds Edgerton's by 99 per cent, on real estate 86 per cent, on watches 34 per cent, on pianos 74 per cent. Evansville has a telephone for every five people and an automobile for every one hundred and twenty-five people. I question if there is another city or village in the state which can equal it in this respect. In the whole state there is less than one automobile for every one thousand people. We have two of the largest stores in southern Wisconsin, one of them occupying more space and doing more business than any store in Madison, Janesville or Beloit." Mr. Smith said that while Evansville has never voted license it was not totally free from drink, stating that there is some liquor sent in direct to the consumer and a little sold illegally, still in his judgment there was consumed there less than 10 per cent of the liquor that is consumed elsewhere. Brodhead, he said, was slightly smaller than Evansville, as a rule was a license town but this year had gone dry.

"Per cent. Evansville exceeds—Brodhead, 47; Edgerton, 36.

Evansville has a telephone for every five people and an automobile for every one hundred and twenty-five people. I question if there is another city or village in the state which can equal it in this respect. In the whole state there is less than one automobile for every one thousand people. We have two of the largest stores in southern Wisconsin, one of them occupying more space and doing more business than any store in Madison, Janesville or Beloit." Mr. Smith said that while Evansville has never voted license it was not totally free from drink, stating that there is some liquor sent in direct to the consumer and a little sold illegally, still in his judgment there was consumed there less than 10 per cent of the liquor that is consumed elsewhere. Brodhead, he said, was slightly smaller than Evansville, as a rule was a license town but this year had gone dry.

"We have also at Evansville a seminary which is about on the same footing with the state university as the high school. This seminary has had 143 graduates and it is my judgment that fully half of these people would have graduated from the high school had not the seminary been there. This would have increased the number of our high school graduates to 216 and our graduates would then exceed Brodhead by 37 per cent and Edgerton 120 per cent. From the county board of supervisors' report I found that our assessed value of improvement on land and lots per capita in Evansville exceeds Edgerton's by 99 per cent, on real estate 86 per cent, on watches 34 per cent, on pianos 74 per cent. GOLF CLUB RESENTS
GRATUITOUS EFFORT TO SELL THE LINKS

Is In Prosperous Condition And Has No Intention Of Parting With One Of Its Finest Properties In The West.

"Preposterous!" "outrageous!" "rubbish!" were the tongue-explosives freely used by members of the Janesville Golf Club yesterday after reading a statement to the effect that a well-organized plan was incubating to sell the local links, and join with Beloit in the purchase of a new site on the Welch farm at Riverside, on the interurban line, about half way between the two cities. Some of the expressions may have been more emphatic than elegant but they all tended to show that there is no sentiment, whatever, in favor of such a move and that no such undertaking is like-ly to be contemplated hereabouts during the present century, at least.

Said President M. C. Jeffries this morning: "I am decidedly opposed to any such movement. We have one of the finest links in the country and we are not even thinking of selling the site."

Secretary J. P. Baker said that any talk of disposing of the present grounds was the rankest nonsense and it was enough to thoroughly disgust those who had worked to provide one of the best golf courses in the west for Janesville, that any one should give weight, or seeming verity to such a story by circulating it.

Treasurer Charles H. Gage: "It looks like an independent movement on the part of Wilson Lane. No one else is in favor of it. We have one of the finest inland courses in the west; a membership amply able to support it; no debts which are likely to embarrass us; and lower dues than any other club in Wisconsin. A book containing rules and the names of members, which is soon to be issued, will show a substantial roll of nearly three hundred. At a meeting of the directors Saturday night, some suggestion was offered in jest that we pull up stakes and move down to the interurban line, but it was taken as interurban and occasioned no comment. We made some tentative plans regarding the installation of an electric motor to pump water and light the clubhouse and settled a vexed question by passing a resolution that the wives of Country Club members should have the privilege of playing on the links, a privilege which they have not heretofore enjoyed, according to our by-laws."

When asked if he was one of those who was trying to sell the golf links, W. G. Wheeler, one of the board of directors, said: "No, I am pretty well satisfied with the present conditions. We have one of the finest properties in the country and I wouldn't want to see any change made unless there was some very good reason back of it."

SAND WAS USED TO

Which Started on Switchboard at Electric Plant Saturday Night—City Dark One Hour.

Saturday evening at 9:45 o'clock the switchboard at the Janesville Electric Co.'s plant, caught fire and the flames leaped through the network of wires to the roof of the building. Night Engineer Riley sent in a still alarm to the fire department and one of the wagons from the west side station and the fire patrol responded. Warned by the electricians, the firemen were quick to the emergency and were at work in a moment with shovels, throwing sand on the blazing switchboard. For the interval of an hour are lamps on the streets of the city and incandescents in the out-skirts gave no light. The service was resumed as soon as the damaged switchboard could be disconnected from eleven others; and a temporary shift made by Manager Korst and his men. The fire was caused by a bolt of lightning. It is estimated that $50 will be the extent of the damage done.

...FORTY YEARS AGO...

Janesville Daily Gazette, May 23rd, 1866.—Hugh Stamp: We were shown the other day, by Mr. Isham, agent of U. H. Crosby and his assignee of Chicago, the original assignment, bearing U. S. Revenue stamp of seven hundred dollars. It will be recollected that Mr. Crosby's failure was for $700,000. How many failures of this kind will it take to pay the National debt?

A City Directory. Messrs. Walz and Gould, gentlemen of large experience in the business, have commenced canvassing for a new city directory of Janesville. They purpose to make a complete work, embracing a history of the past and present of the city; a full and correct list of the inhabitants and places of business; a record of the city government, courts, of justice, schools, churches, benevolent institutions, names of streets, and in fact every thing which such a volume ought to contain. It is a long time since a directory of our city was put forth and we greatly need such a work. We trust our citizens will give the enterprise encouragement.

Recovered.—The bodies of Messrs. Finch and Thompson who were drowned in Rock River on Saturday evening have been recovered. At the time of the accident they were drawing a seine for fish, and were walking over a portion of the river's bed that they considered themselves familiar with, when suddenly they stepped off into a hole and the seine carried them down. One of them did not come to the surface at all. The two men who were with them were also taken into deep water, and were barely able to reach the bank. One of the men was a good swimmer, but it was supposed that he was taken with the cramp. The funerals of both the unfortunate men were attended today, from one home in Emerald Grove.

Beautiful Car.—We understand that the new director's car recently built at Fond du Lac for the Chicago & North Western Railroad Co., will arrive here this evening and be on exhibition between 8 and 9 a. m. tomorrow at the passenger depot, when it will leave for Chicago.

La Crosse's New Crusade.
Madison Journal: La Crosse is going to inaugurate a new kind of crusade against vice. Among other things it is to be demanded, that if women and girls want to drink they must stand up to the bar "like a man." It is significant evidence of a prevalent tendency to reform along logical lines. It's like curing a boy-of-the-tobacco habit by requiring him to swallow it.

PROPOSALS FOR UNIVERSITY BUILDINGS.

Sealed proposals will be received by the regents of the University of Wisconsin up to two o'clock p. m., May 31, 1906, at the regent's office in the law building at the university for the construction of an Agronomy building and for the construction of an agricultural engineering building, under plans and specifications of Architect Peabody, at whose office in the law building at the university, plans and specifications may be seen. They may also be seen at the office of the Builders' Exchange in Milwaukee, or at the office of the American Contractor in Chicago, or will be sent to persons desiring to bid upon deposit of $10.00 for each set to assure return.

Bids will be taken according to specifications for mill construction and separate bids according to specifications for the entire construction including reinforced concrete construction. Separate bids will be received for the finishing hardware for these buildings.

Bids must be made upon the form supplied by the architect and check to order of undersigned for two percent of the amount of the bid must be attached to the bid, as a guaranty that the bidder will execute contract. The right is reserved to reject any or all of the bids.

Bids should be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, marked "proposals, etc."

"He who thinks he can find in himself the means of doing without others is much mistaken; but he who thinks that others cannot do without him is still more mistaken." A merchant rarely makes the first mistake—never if he is sane; but when he concludes to curtail his advertising it is a sign that he is falling into the second.

CIVIL SERVICE RED TAPE.

If there is any force connected with the government service, which needs reforming, it is the civil service act, which protects a lot of incompetent employees to the embarrassment and detriment of public service.

The Bureau of Immigration is honeycombed with this class of servants. Men who apparently lack the intelligence to pound sand in a rat hole and yet entrusted with positions of responsibility.

This department is the source of constant complaint, but unfortunately these complaints come from immigrants who are not yet citizens, and for that reason but little attention is given to them, and abuses are not corrected.

A case has just come to light in Milwaukee which shows the rottenness of the system, and which should be given the widest publicity. Two German boys and a girl landed in this country two or three years ago and found their way to the Cream City, where they went to work, prompted by the one ambition to save money enough to send back to the Fatherland for the father and mother and half dozen children; so that the family could be reunited and find a home in God's country.

Their hopes were finally realized and a few weeks ago money was sent for ocean and railroad fare from Germany to Milwaukee. The family, composed of the father, mother and six children, took steerage passage on a liner, which arrived in New York two weeks ago.

When land was sighted the immigrants were ordered to pack up their blankets and belongings and after this was done, they shivered with the cold for several hours before the vessel touched at the quarantine station.

The oldest boy of the German family, a lad of sixteen, took a severe cold and the immigration officers decided that he must be placed in the detention hospital, although he was able to travel and might have gone on with the family.

So the father gave him his ticket to Milwaukee and a five dollar bill and the family went on to their destination expecting that the boy would follow in a few days. But he did not come and no attention was paid to letters.

The sister who had been saving money to bring the family over, finally took the matter to her employer and he telegraphed a friend in New York to look the boy up, when the discovery was made that he had been sent back to Germany on the liner that had brought him over. This in spite of the fact that he would be landed in a city of strangers, and 300 miles from his old home.

Then the authorities at Washington were asked to take a hand and a cablegram was sent to the ship company to take care of the boy until the case could be investigated and the question determined as to the boy's right to land on American soil.

With the red tape connected with the department this will probably require several months. In the meantime the civil service protected imbecils connected with the Bureau of Immigration will continue to impose on innocent and helpless people.

President Roosevelt is something of a reformer. He is also a civil service hobbyist. But when he gets through regulating the railroads and combines, he will do the country most excellent service by a special session devoted to housecleaning in several departments.

Intelligent and efficient public service is of much more importance than civil service. The people pay for the former and are entitled to the worth of their money. The latter is a shield for incompetency and encourages insolence and neglect in marked degree.

While the United States is entitled to protection from the pauper and criminal classes which come to our shores from all quarters of the globe, the right to pass on who are entitled to admission should be vested in men of ordinary intelligence, and men who are blessed with some degree of common sense.

If there was any excuse for sending the German boy back to his own country under the circumstances described, it has not yet come to the surface and the men responsible for the dastardly act should be deprived of authority without delay.

HASTY JUDGMENT.

The railroads and the Standard Oil company are just now on trial by the United States government, the highest tribunal in the land. The simple fact that the government has called these corporations to account is sufficient proof of guilt, in the minds of many people, and judgment is freely rendered.

It may not be popular to say it, in this instance, but the fact remains that any judgment rendered through prejudice, while an investigation and trial is in progress, is hasty and ill-advised.

There are always two sides to a question and the accused is entitled to a fair and impartial hearing. The great mass of people would find it difficult to file an indictment against either the Standard Oil company or the railroads. The fact is that they have no complaint and are only influenced by the popular wave of criticism against corporate wealth, which is just now sweeping over the country.

The Standard Oil Company, through its secretary, C. M. Pratt, has just issued a letter to the stock holders of that corporation, which goes into detail on every charge made by Commissioner Garfield.

The same will doubtless be offered in evidence, in defense of the company, and if supported will clear the corporation of the charges preferred. In the meantime the people can afford to suspend judgment.

The letter states one fact which will be news to many people, namely that the Standard Oil company has 135 competitors in the American market and therefore is not a monopoly.

The statement is also made that for the past 25 years 60 per cent of the company's product has been sold in foreign markets, against all kinds of foreign competition.

The rebate question is also one of the burning questions of the day, and is discussed glibly by many people who wouldn't know a rebate if it was labeled.

One of the great railroad men of the day is A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania system. His company, with many others, is accused of granting secret rebates to favored shippers and yet no man in the country has done more than Mr. Cassatt to break up this scheme.

The last number of Pearson's Magazine contains a scrap of history from the pen of James Creelman, which should clear Mr. Cassatt and his company from the rebate charge. Mr. Creelman says:

"In 1899 a committee of Pennsylvania directors offered A. J. Cassatt the vacant presidency. It was a critical time. The rebate system had so fastened itself that the freight receipts of the Pennsylvania had sunk to the lowest ton-mile rate in its history. Expenses could be reduced no further; nothing could save the Pennsylvania position but expansion."

"Cassatt's first characteristic act was to stop all secret rates and rebates. At the same time he won over Vanderbilt, so that the New York Central became a supporter of the war against discrimination. Standard Oil had its pipe lines and was no longer a factor; but there was Andrew Carnegie, chiefest of the rebaters. He shipped $10,000,000 of freight a year over the Pennsylvania, the rebates alone on which ran up to great sums. Carnegie protested in vain. Then he threatened a line from the west through Pittsburg to the sea that would destroy the Pennsylvania primacy. There was no man better able to understand that threat than Cassatt; but he had planned out his fight and summed up his resources; and he summarily refused Carnegie."

"That was the decisive moment in the real war against secret rates. Everything since has been merely an echo of Cassatt's historic reply."

"It was in his work of exterminating secret rates that Cassatt applied the 'community of interest' scheme. Quickly, also, he reached out for control of one road after another. He secured the Long Island and control of Baltimore & Ohio, Norfolk & Western and Chesapeake & Ohio, established intimate affiliations with the Vanderbilts, and became a director in the New Haven. In seven years he spent over $200,000,000 and bought over $150,000,000 stocks of other companies. All this time he set his face against secret rates and persuaded the heads of other systems to follow his example."

"Mr. Cassatt said to me a few weeks ago: 'I have for several years believed that the Interstate Commerce Commission ought to be in a position to fix rates whenever unreasonable rates are found, provided there shall be right of appeal to the courts. Let the government regulate us. For my part, and for any associates, we are generally heartily in accord with the position of President Roosevelt. But it is equally important that the people should recognize the grave necessity for greater harmony of action and interests between the railroads. We have trampled out the secret rate and rebate system, and it can never be revived again unless the railroads are prevented by unwise legislation from maintaining such relations as will ensure reasonable and stable rates.'"

"The men at the head of these great corporations are neither thieves nor law breakers. The law is their protection and they respect it to the extent of courting honest and unprejudiced investigation."

There is a difference between consolidation and union, and it looks very much as though the Presbyterians had discovered the fact. The Cumberland branch, or the Church South, has never been in accord with the main body and the consolidation recently effected appears to be a union only in name. Religious prejudice is usually beyond the pale of reason.

The woods will be full of walking delegates all over the state between now and the first of September. Every office seeker runs an open shop employment bureau, for his nomination depends on signatures obtained by personal or proxy solicitation. All that the primary law lacks is the many-arm attachment, and the merry ha, ha, which the people will furnish when the curtain goes down after the first act.

Between Davidson, Connor and Stephenson, and La Follette and Lenoir, the Milwaukee organ is between his Satanic Majesty and the briny deep. In olden times the people were told that it was difficult to serve two masters, and the easy way to do it has not yet been discovered. The antics of the organ will be watched with interest.

Mr. Connor's announcement has created some commotion around the state and the question of which way to jump for cover is still agitating the minds of office seekers. The game of politics is a little uncertain at best and the man who plays it long enough finds plenty of exercise in keeping pace with the band wagon.

The staid old city of Milwaukee manages to turn out a defaulter occasionally. When the rate bill is fully established and the primary law begins to shed its benign influence, things will be different. The full benefits of reform are not yet realized.

Some enthusiasts have discovered that balloon ascensions are good for impaired vision. The up-to-date oculist of the future will add to his equipment an air ship, and take his patients to a trip away beyond the clouds for fresh air and treatment. The world of science "do move."

"You never know what you can do till you try it." This is what the government thought when it embarked in the Panama canal and railway business. The trouble is that both questions are still conundrums.

ESCAPED A SHUT-OUT IN INTERSCHOLASTIC

By Taking Third Place in the Quarter-Mile Floyd Davis Scored One Point for Janesville.

By winning third place in the 440-yard dash against a field of 30 contestants, Floyd Davis of the Janesville track team saved the local high school from the shut-out which was the portion of Evansville and a number of other institutions whose teams competed in the annual Wisconsin interscholastic athletic meet at Camp Randall, Madison, on Saturday.

He also secured first place in the semifinals for the 100-yard dash, but the final was run immediately after the quarter-mile event and he had insufficient time to recover his wind and was therefore not in condition to do justice to himself. Arthur Smith was running second within 200 yards of the finish in the mile race and Harvey Lee was first in the half-mile up to the last quarter. W. B. Tallman did good work in the broad and high jumps, but did not secure a place. The relay team in which Roger Cunningham was to take a part had to be called off as the four other local boys had been worn out by competition in other events. The temperature, at 42 degrees, chilled the contestants. No records were equalled or broken. Milwaukee South Division won the meet and a Meyer of Milwaukee East Division was the star athlete of the meet; his brother, W. Meyer, of the same school, second; and Dolman of Milwaukee West Division, third. Twenty-six schools were represented and the attendance was 3,000. There were 14 events each counting 9 points—first 3, second 2, and third 1. The score by schools was as follows:

ENTERTAINED AT A HOUSE PARTY HERE

Edward Wray and Miss Ethel Hodge Host and Hostess of Varsity and Beloit Students.

Edward Wray and Miss Hodge entertained a number of students from the State University and Beloit college and a few Janesville young people at a house party Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday afternoon was pleasantly spent on the William Paul farm near Milton and yesterday the guests were received at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wray, 47 Milwaukee avenue, and the home of Mrs. Eliza Hodge at 105 South Main street.

The young ladies from Beloit returned home on the 9:15 electric car last evening and the young men left for Madison at 9:20. Glen Wray, President of the Bell Electric company of Chicago and a brother of the host, acted as chaperone of the party and the guests were The Misses Halcyon Cross, Ethel Bates, Bessie Cross, and Pauline Cross of this city; the Misses Margaret Towne, Laura Sears, Edith Emory and Beryl Plant of Beloit college, and the Messrs. Alfred Hoefler, M. Huefner, J. C. Blankenagel, Victor Anderson, Leonard Barrett, Frank M. Kennedy and Clarence Hean.

BRIEF ITEMS

Left for Washington: Walter Caemerer left this morning for Washington, D. C., where he has secured a position as stenographer in the navy department. His salary to begin with will be sixty dollars per month and there is possibility of getting eighteen hundred a year in the place he holds.

Mr. Caemerer finished his work at the high school with special examinations Saturday and will receive his diploma by mail at the time of commencement. His graduation thesis, which was on Nature, was completed and accepted and his stereopticon slides for illustrating the talk were prepared.

To Spend Sunday Here: "The Hale Five Fighters," which company shows here next Monday, will come from Madison over the St. Paul road next Sunday morning and spend the Sabbath day in the city. From here the show will go over the North-Western line to Belvidere. The second advertising car is in the city today.

Wants Men for Paving Work: E. P. Davis, superintendent for Rasmussen & Co., which has the contract for laying 10,000 yards of pavement at Stoughton and for doing $100,000 worth of paving at Oshkosh, was in Janesville today looking for men to assist him in the work.

Abusive Language Case: Mrs. Michael Burns appeared in municipal court this morning to answer to the charge of applying abusive epithets to Carrie Porter in the presence of Polly Spence. The complaint was made by Charles Porter. The case was adjourned to June 4.

Foreclosed on Restaurant: Jacob Stern foreclosed today on the Shanghai restaurant at the corner of River and Milwaukee streets, by virtue of the $104 chattel mortgage on the place which he bought from H. L. McNamara & Co. in order to secure himself for the $66 which the Hayes Bros. were in debt to him.

Who Owns the Horse? Before Justice Earle today the action of Matt Kennedy vs. John Shelly, Harry Walton, and Albert Beloit is being tried. The parties are from Footville and about 25 witnesses came in with them this morning. Ryan & Oestreich appear for the plaintiff, T. S. Nolan for Belting and Walton, and J. J. Cunningham for Shelly. The plaintiff seeks to recover about $33 for the feed and care of a horse and there is a lively dispute as to whom the horse belongs, ownership being claimed by all of the defendants.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT AT THE FIVE POINTS

John Hartnett of Racine Was Run Down by Switch-Engine Late Saturday Night.

John Hartnett of Racine, a stranger in the city, was run down at the Five Points crossing at half-past eleven o'clock Saturday evening and died at the city hall less than an hour thereafter. As he cleared one track over which a train was passing he stepped in front of a switch-engine on the next one parallel. His right leg was severed near the hip, the left one was cut off just above the knee, several ribs were fractured and his face was terribly cut. The ambulance was called and removed the dying man to the police station, the only place which the city of Janesville has for such emergencies. Dr. Palmer was called and did what he could for the unfortunate. At 12:20 the man died and the body was removed to Kimball's morgue.

M. F. Hartnett of St. Louis and T. R. Hartnett of Racine, brothers of the deceased, arrived in the city this morning. The late-named is in the Racine fire department and another brother, William Hartnett, is captain of one of the fire companies there. Two sisters, Mrs. Horan and Miss Bessie Hartnett, reside in Chicago.

The mother is so critically ill at St. Mary's hospital in Racine that small hopes for her recovery are entertained.

The unfortunate man was 38 years of age. He was of a roving disposition, making his home in St. Louis a part of the time, but spending the greater portion of it in Wisconsin cities. He was well dressed, honest, and possessed of no vicious habits. The two brothers were informed that late Saturday afternoon he refused to drink with several traveling men with whom he was conversing at the Myers house. The body was taken to Racine on the 11:20 train.

MATTERS BEFORE COUNCIL TONIGHT

Considerable Time Will Be Devoted to Streets and Sewers at the Session.

At the regular meeting of the city council tonight it is expected that Mayor Hutchinson will announce his unwillingness to sign the ordinance abolishing the office of assistant street commissioner. A hearing will be given Forest Park property-owners with regard to the grading work projected for the streets in that locality and it is understood that an ordinance will be introduced providing for the paving of St. Lawrence Place from the East street intersection to Harrison street. The consent of all lot owners, it is reported, has been secured for the last named proposition. Sewerage plans for districts 3, 4, 10, 14, and 15 will be reported by the street assessment committee. Some action may be taken on the resolution to order cement curbing and gutters installed on South Main street, consideration of which was postponed at the last meeting. Aldermen Brockhaus and Dunin, the special committee which made recommendations for some rather extensive improvements at the isolation hospital, will be expected to present an estimate of the cost. City Attorney Maxfield has made an investigation to determine whether or not it is possible to apportion the cost of macadamizing streets in such a manner that only one-third shall be borne by the property benefited, and the remaining two-thirds by the ward and general funds, and has found that the ward fund cannot be used for any such purpose. Property-owners, it appears, will have to bear the total expense in the future, as in the past. J. S. Berger, the carnival man, will be on hand to ask for some concession, the nature of which he does not choose to divulge before the meeting.

PAYS TO MAKE NON-EST GOODS.

Parable of Jolly Joe.

"This is a great age of faking," said a cloth manufacturer.

"People somehow want to be humbugged. 'Quality' doesn't cut much figure any more."

"The whole thing is appearance." The man who spoke was one of those manufacturers who had inherited a reputable business from his father and one who had made no progress. Nor did the firms that used his clothes in comparatively large quantities amount to much.

No Sir: We can't stand for that, for a second, while there is a great deal of faking done nowadays we don't believe in it. The man who makes good stuff is the man who will make more stuff, he is the man who will build a business that will expand right along.

People are not looking for shoddy, some retailers think people want something cheap. They don't. They want something good. Isn't it better economy to buy one of our $15.00 SUITS and wear it a year than to pay $10.88 or $12.89 for a poor excuse suit, made from fake goods by a fake manufacturer and sold to you by a fake retailer, that thinks you want something cheap, and have it go to pieces in 60 days. Too many are striving to make something cheap instead of making something good.

You can look at all of the exceedingly large concerns in the country and you will find them to be reputable concerns that are making good goods.

FORD CLOTHES are guaranteed clothes—better look us up for good clothes at a fair price.—You will find it your price.

YOU can "set a good table" seven days a week, three times a day—and stay "within your means." It's a matter of "management"—of knowing where to buy.
